

"Simple situations are not the solution", Roberto Casati, Achille Varzi

Contributed by Administrator
 Saturday, 23 January 2010
 Last Updated Friday, 29 January 2010

Philosophy is the opinion of some excellent course of study for executives, managers and employees of public institutions. There is a lot wrong, because this branch of science uses logic, abstract thinking and develops a sense of meaningfulness of human actions. Therefore, contrary to common belief, it contains no or little boring, at least for those who like to think.

Simple authors are not to resolve the situation (the word "no", as suggested by Roberto Casati and Achille Varzi, must be crossed). It is a collection of funny, interesting written history, devoted to fundamental problems, which rises from us since antiquity: what consciousness is and whether you can get rid of it? Is our world but there are others that are the mirror reflection? What is the nature of time and space, and whether we can change our past? If, however, expect a complex, abstract considerations, the known even from the works of Martin Heidegger, a surprise awaits us. For the story, by Casati and Varzi, the real-life stories, so those that can happen to anyone. And thanks to which we feel, as he had said metaphysical strangeness of existence.

Such a case meets the hero of Peace 88 Male, leaving the delegation goes to a luxury hotel. When introduced into the apartment, notes on his wall perfectly fit into a mirror, which gives a perfect reflection of the environment. Reveals the fact that the mirror is warm to the touch, and recalls a kind of invisible border between two worlds perfectly symmetrical. The hero loses confidence, he is convinced that its existence is a substitute of true reality, a reflection of someone who lurks on the other side of the mirror. Who is real and who is unreal? Here's a question straight from the cult movie Matrix, which considering the nature of human being introduced on a permanent basis to pop culture. Like the brothers trilogy, the final short story will lead us into a philosophical stupor and take rest for a good few minutes (not to mention the fear to look in the mirror). Equally splendid is the text under the telling title of Youtube. This brief reflection on the life of the eminent poet, whose unique, original poems rocked canon of literature. Historians, examining the life and work of the poet, wondered the source of creative inspiration of the author, who for 23 years of age, as a student in accounting, none of the literature was not common until suddenly, within a few days, he became a creative man, its amazing sensitivity, imagination and a sense of the word. This explained the mystery until the letter dated on 8 May 1937, so a few days before the moment when the young man floated and was first inspired his poem. The hero tells him his beloved, as in the morning in his bedroom came a mysterious man claiming to be an outstanding expert in the literature. In his hands he held several volumes of poetry created by young students of accounting. It turned out later that this is a time traveler who visited until 1937, to explain the secrets of genius word biography of the future. Pressure at the mouth of the question: if a student in the room did not appear on a guest from the future, if at all great poet? Does the past and the future cannot be altered? Are we stuck with what is written in the stars, and maybe we can shape our destiny? Comes to mind the famous grandfather paradox: if we go back to the past and kill your grandfather (before conceived to be our father), and we will continue to exist? Simple authors not to resolve the situation does not give us ready answers, encouraging primarily to take their own intellectual quest.

Certainly the book will appeal to fans of the metaphysical mysteries of our destiny. It's perfect reading for January, when starts next year. What happens on December 31 about 23:59? Stop at all the devices? World will cease to exist? Apocalypse arrives? These questions are loaded with our emotions, and emotions are often a source of wrong answers. But from what is philosophy - the queen of wisdom?